

SIC Codes-to-NAICS Conference

(If you know what this means, this conference is for you!)

You are invited to attend a conference that will address the impending North American Industry Classification System (NAICS) conversion, Current Employment Statistics (CES) sample redesign, and how they will affect the use of our monthly data. The North American Industry Classification System differs greatly from the currently used Standard Industrial Classification system. The presentation will explain the origin of NAICS, its purpose, and its impact on both the ES-202 program and the Current Employment Statistics program.

Your participation as part of a diverse group of businesspersons will give us a balanced view of the concerns that generally accompany the introduction of any new system. This will be an opportunity for us to address these issues and make this a successful transition.

Please select one conference:

Tuesday, August 20

University of Michigan, Dearborn
School of Management, Lecture Hall B
4901 Evergreen Road, Dearborn, MI 48128
10 a.m. - 12 p.m.

Wednesday, August 21

G. Mennen Williams Building
Auditorium, 1st floor
525 West Ottawa St., Lansing, MI
9 a.m. - 11 a.m.

Please email T.J. Munson at career@michigan.gov or call (517) 241-0592 by August 16 to make your reservation.